CNIA
Canadian Nursing Informatics Association

WELCOME MESSAGE

On behalf of the conference Planning Committee and the CNIA Board of Directors, I would like to welcome you all to CNIA's second national conference on nursing informatics. This year's theme, Informatics Everywhere: Celebrating the Diversity of Informatics Practice, examines the multitude of ways nursing and health informatics is being used to support and transform health care delivery. We hope the presentations, along with our plenary speakers, give you the opportunity to learn, meet new colleagues and grow professionally.

It is hard to believe that 2 years have passed since our last conference. I would like to extend a special thanks to previous chair, Lynn Nagle, and the rest of the planning and program volunteers for their hard work in making our first conference such an outstanding success. The first conference was successful beyond our wildest dreams, and I'm certain that you won't be disappointed the second time around. If you were unable to attend the last conference, or just want to be reminded of the topics, all of the materials were used to create the first edition of the Canadian Journal of Nursing Informatics (available at http://www.cnia.ca/journal/volume1_no1a.html).

I wish each and every one of you a successful conference and hope that you will continue to contribute to this very important work in the future.

PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOP

MONDAY, OCTOBER 1
9:30 - 11:30 AM
ROOM: REGENCY DE

TOPIC:
Web2.0 and the implications for health care

SPEAKERS:
Robin Carriere, RN, BScN, MHI (cand.)
President, CNIA

June Kaminski, RN, MSN, PhD(c)
President-Elect, CNIA

Please join us for a unique pre-conference workshop which looks to the future of health information management and the internet. The workshop will examine new trends and tools, collectively known as web2.0, which are changing how people use and interact over the internet. This workshop will examine current web2.0 concepts such as wikis, social networking, user-driven content, syndication and folksonomies. Attendees will then be given the opportunity to use and test many of these tools. To close off the session, participants will discuss how these concepts may be applied to their current work and how it could change our methods of creating and sharing knowledge.

This introductory workshop is geared towards people who have no or very little experience with web2.0 concepts and practices and is intended for a non-technical audience. Some knowledge of using the internet is expected. To maximize your experience, please bring a laptop (wireless preferred) to the session. Access to a laptop will be provided for those who are unable to provide their own (but these may need to be shared).

This workshop is not included in the overall conference fee and must be registered for separately. Workshop fees include materials and lunch.

EARLY-BIRD PRIZE WINNER
The early-bird winner is: Mary-Lou Casey of South East Regional Health Authority!

Mary-Lou is the winner of an Ipod Nano courtesy of Healthech.

PLENARY AND KEYNOTE SPEAKERS*

MONDAY, OCTOBER 1
2:00 - 3:00 PM

Opening Keynote Speaker: Mike Sheridan
Chief Operating Officer, Canada Health Infoway

Transforming and modernizing Canada's health care system through electronic health records: The Canada Health Infoway experience

Mike Sheridan, Chief Operating Officer, Canada Health Infoway, will discuss the issues associated with, and progress made in, developing electronic health records [EHR] for Canadians. The presentation will look at the importance of engaging health care practitioners and the benefits and value that the EHR will bring to Canada's healthcare system and for the country as a whole.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2
9:00 – 10:00 AM

Speaker: Valerie Gideon, PhD
Senior Director of Health and Social Development, Assembly of First Nations, Ottawa

Topic: Electronic Health Record: A Vision from A First Nations Perspective

First Nations' interest in adopting electronic media to support health care services delivery has greatly enhanced over the last decade. This past Spring, the Assembly of First Nations has been successful in acquiring Phase 0 support from CHII to explore First Nations client registries as the key element in seeding the EHR for First Nations.

This presentation will outline an overview of past challenges, current opportunities and the First Nations' strategic vision for engagement in federal, provincial, territorial and First Nations' community-based EHRs, consistent with self-government and institutional development.

* As confirmed at time of print

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2
10:30 AM - NOON

Moderator: Dr. Kathryn Hannah
Executive Project Lead, Canadian Nurses Association

Panellists: Dr. Lynn M. Nagle, Senior Nursing Advisor, Canada Health Infoway

Vivian Eliopoulos, Regional Director, Clinical Systems, Vancouver Coastal Health Authority

Dr. Margaret Ann Kennedy, Principal, Kennedy Health Informatics Association

Sandra MacDonald-Rencz, Executive Director, Office of Nursing Policy, Health Policy and Communications Branch, Health Canada

Topic: Bringing Nursing to the Tipping Point

In this session, an expert panel will engage the attendees in discussing a variety of issues related to informatics in nursing practice, education, research and policy. In particular, what will be the key strategies to tip the engagement of the nursing community in informatics to a majority? What barriers must be addressed and what will be the enticements? What will the future look like?

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3
10:30 – 11:30 AM

Speaker: Margaret Trudeau
Celebrated Canadian & Mental Health Advocate

Margaret Trudeau became the youngest Prime Minister's wife in Canadian history, when she married Pierre Elliot Trudeau at the age of 22. She has led a rich and interesting life by raising five children and traveling the country and the world extensively.

Margaret has authored two books, Beyond Reason, and Consequences.

For all her adult life, Margaret Trudeau has suffered from the debilitating effects of her bipolar condition. Now, after seeking medical treatment that has given her life balance and happiness, she advocates strongly on mental health issues, helping people overcome the stigma of mental illness that often prevents sufferers from getting help. She is working with The Royal Ottawa Hospital to raise funds for their new hospital and raise public awareness of mental health issues.

Margaret has wonderful stories to tell and a strong, clear message on the importance of finding balance of mind, body and spirit.

Health Outcomes for Better Information and Care is an initiative of the Ontario Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care that is implementing the electronic collection of standardized nursing across Ontario. In addition to providing 'real time' information to nurses about how well patients are doing as a result of health care, the collection of this information will provide valuable information to administrators in understanding how their organization is doing in managing outcomes. At an aggregate level this information will be useful to researchers and policy makers in examining how well the system is performing in meeting the health care needs of people.
